RECENT ADVERTISEMENTS. We now have the most complete and reliable of any in this Western country, and are prepared to execute the work of every description in the most skillful and reasonable manner. We have a large stock of the latest and most improved machinery, and are prepared to execute the work of every description in the most skillful and reasonable manner.

GOING TO A NEW COUNTRY. Many persons start to a new country with a great deal of anxiety to themselves all the comforts and conveniences of old and settled States. When they arrive here, they find that the new country is not so different from the old as they supposed.

THE NEW ROUTE TO KANSAS. The Iowa route to Kansas is now complete, so far as it can be made with stage routes. From Chicago to Iowa City, there is a complete stage connection, and from the latter point to Dayton, on the Missouri river, opposite Nebraska City, a new stage route has been established.

THE HEAD OF THE BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS. The head of the Bureau of Indian Affairs has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension of the murderers of Cay, the late Shawnee and Wyandotte Agent.

TABLE ROCK.

Mr. Edmonson. Having just returned from a short tour through Pawnee and Johnson counties, in this Territory, and knowing you always like to be posted in relation to such matters, I give you a few lines respecting the country. The town, Table Rock, is near the center of Pawnee county, on the west bank of the Great Nemaha river, and on an elevation between two beautiful creeks flowing from the west; it extends from one creek to the other, and is on a direct line of the Territorial road from Brownville to Marysville, on Big Blue river; being the only good crossing within four miles of this point. It is 20 miles south-west of Brownville, and 12 north of the Kansas line. The lots are three rods by nine—twelve lots to the block—Alleys running at right angles through the center of each block. The Public Square is twenty-six rods across, each way, and on the top of a commanding eminence, where is a pretty view of the surrounding streams and country. There are two houses being constructed at the present time, one is a mercantile house; six other houses contracted to be built. Two of your regular down-easters, are at work constructing a Saw and Grist mill; and under obligations to have them in operation within three months. I rode over a good portion of the country, found immense quantities of good building Stone—Stone coal, Limestone and Granite, has been discovered near the town. There is plenty of timber on all the streams (they are numerous) for fencing and building purposes. In short, this portion of the country lacks none of Nature's bounties, to make it one of the best farming countries in Nebraska. Before and beside you rolls an "in-and-out" of verdure and luxuriance—hundreds of acres of corn can now be seen, darkly waving in an early summer; while behind this, stretch the immeasurable meadows, covered with Eden, their untold wealth of herbage and flowers, undulating in the fresh breezes like a gently troubled ocean; and still behind these, at points not far distant and again far as the eye can reach, or farther, swells the graceful outline of the nearest woods, marking the winding way of some sparkling water-course; while the open prairie is often dotted with herds of cattle and horses; and everywhere inviting their presence—everywhere proffering a harvest to the mower's scythe—which seems too bounteous to have waved here spontaneously summer after summer, since the deluge.

I will close by saying, that this sunny portion of God's creation—this natural intermingling of grainfield and pasture; meadow and grove—is more inviting than any aspect worn by Nature elsewhere; and he who traverses these regions, will never again wonder at the mighty tide of emigration, which sets with restless, ever-increasing volume, from the Atlantic westward.

NEMAH. BROWNVILLE, N. T. July 30, 1856.

"SPLIT RAPPINGS"—"STOP THAT KNOCKING."—"Yes, rapping, kind reader, 'Tis said there is a 'time for all things,' and we believe it; yet we entertain serious doubts whether that 'time' means every alternate night. Come, come, young gentlemen, if you fail to have respect for the 'peace and quiet' of your friends and neighbors, take a rational view as to yourselves—a dollars and sense view of the matter. By pursuing a different course, you will secure more of the former, show more of the latter, and 'last though not least,' attain a 'good name,' which Wisdom says, is preferable to riches—and we might add, the fun of 'getting on a high.'"

THE EXCELLENT COMMUNICATION FROM FRIEND KIRK came too late for this week. It shall appear in our next issue.

WE HAVE UPON OUR TABLE "MOORE'S RECAL. NEW YORKER," a valuable weekly; devoted principally to agriculture—published at Rochester, N. Y., by D. D. T. Moore. Terms $2—three copies $5—seven for $10—eleven for $15. We consider this paper one of our most valuable exchanges. Specimen Nos can be seen at this office.

Read the communication of "Nemaha," in another column. We have been over that portion of the country, and on the town site he so beautifully describes, and fully endorses all his say.

AN INDIAN BURIAL GROUND.—A burial place of great antiquity has recently been discovered on a hill near the Atlantic House, at the head of Nantasket beach. Some forty or fifty depressions of the earth were first remarked directly by the roadside, in close proximity, and one or two of them being dug into from motives of curiosity, human skeletons were discovered. On the fourth of July a party of scientific gentlemen proceeded to the spot and excavated several of the graves, in each of which was found a human skeleton in a sitting posture, more or less perfect, and near it hollow stones, cups, stone pestles, and other relics, such as are commonly found in Indian mounds. The place is supposed to have been used for burial purposes by some tribe who passed away long before the advent of the pale faces, and of whom no trace or tradition now remains among men.—Boston Atlas.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY AT THE MAMMOTH CAVE.—Last Tuesday, the 11th inst., Stephen Bishop, the guide, and three students, Robert Taylor, Clarence Bate, and Wm. L. Stone, while rambling in the cave, discovered an entirely unknown passage, of some two miles in length. By this important discovery, the cave, already the largest in the world, is found to extend eleven miles instead of nine miles, as has hitherto been supposed. This passage was found by the party to lead to chambers far surpassing all those formerly known, both in extent and magnificence. It is supposed that this discovery will lead to others of still greater importance.—Louisville Journal, 15th.

CONVICTION OF EXPRESS ROBBERS.—We learn by our exchanges that White, Ayers and King, who it will be recollected, robbed the American Express Company sometime ago, of $50,000 belonging to Government, have been found guilty and sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. We do not learn whether the stolen money has been obtained or not.

SINGULAR FRANK OF LIGHTNING.

The New Orleans Playhouse records the following strange freak of lightning: As an evidence of the fact, "that there is a more a slip between the cup and the lip," we may state that one of the convivial party assembled at Dan Hickok's, when the storm was at its height, was just in the act of putting a brandy snash to his lips, when the electric fluid came down the chimney. The imbibor was struck by the mysterious visitant, and, as it ran down his arms to his fingers' ends, it sent that conductor of spirits, but non-conductor of electricity—the tumbler—about twenty feet from the lips that already had opened in welcome to its contents. Whether the strange flight of the glass was looked upon as a hint that he who held it was about to take "a glass too much," we have not learned.
